Route and Seventeenth South at an approximate cost of $25,000 and has a capacity of 100 barrels. In connection a steam roller feed mill for the crushing of oats, barley and other feeding stuff has been installed. The structure is a credit to its builders and will be a great advantage to the town. The building is of brick and runs up four stories; the equipment is of the latest improved and the mill is brought to the highest standard throughout.

The company has also erected an electric plant about a mile west of Murray, near where the old mill stood which burned down in September, and will operate its mill with electric power. The plant also furnishes light for the town of Taylorsville through which the company has built a transmission line. Murray is fast becoming a commercial center and a great shipping point. Enterprising moves like the one above mentioned are encouraging. Opportunities are many here.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

MURRAY, Nov. 27.—The regular session of the Murray city council, was held as usual last Tuesday. Mayor Brown reported that several complaints had been made to him regarding the turning off of the lights at midnight on State street and as the street is so badly torn up, and in the condition that it is rended dangerous to pedestrians travelling the street after the lights are turned off. The mayor recommended that the lights remain all night during the time that the street is in the present condition. The Progress company stated that if the city was in the condition that it could not stand the extra expense of the lights burning all night, that the company would stand the additional expense and the lights will be allowed to burn until 7 o'clock in the morning instead of being turned off at 1 o'clock a. m.

PROVO, Nov. 27.—The city council last night changed the fire limit ordinance so as to permit the new school-house to be built on the corner of Fourth West and First South street, to Fourth West and First South street, to be covered with shingles, the shingles to be dipped in preparations which, it is claimed, make them practically fire-proof. Councilman Glies voted against the ordinance, on the ground that he did not think the shingles were as good as metal covering or slate, and he believed the school building should be as nearly fireproof as possible. The members of the beard of education, however, had asked for the concession as it would somewhat reduce the cost of construction and it was believed would be perfectly safe, and the majority of the council decided to let them have their own way.
